

Community Concierge

Simplify the development application process with Community Concierge.

In today's municipal world, you're facing pressure from Council and elected officials to streamline development approvals. This is only compounded by overworked staff who are frustrated by applicants' misunderstanding of the planning process and the lack of data-driven discussions. Gathering data from scattered sources is time-consuming, and as a decision maker you often need to access multiple systems, which aren't always visually accessible.

With Community Concierge, discover a simplified development application process all in one portal. Commenting agencies and applicants can all have a conversation based on the same information and data.
